

GLNA WHISTLEBLOWING POLICY | Authorised Jan 2020

Introduction

The Board of Global Leadership Network Australia is committed to operating legally (in accordance with applicable legislation and regulation), properly (in accordance with organisational policy and procedures), and ethically (in accordance with recognised ethical principles). Employees are expected to cooperate with the organisation in maintaining legal, proper, and ethical operations, if necessary, by reporting non-compliant actions by other people. Correspondingly, employees who do assist in maintaining legal, proper, and ethical operations should not be penalised in any way.

Purpose

The purpose of this policy is to:

- a) encourage the reporting of matters that may cause harm to individuals or financial or non-financial loss to Global Leadership Network Australia or damage to its reputation.
- b) enable Global Leadership Network Australia to deal with reports from whistle-blowers in a way that will protect the identity of the whistle-blower and provide for the secure storage of the information provided.
- c) establish the policies for protecting whistle-blowers against reprisal by any person internal or external to the entity.
- d) provide for the appropriate infrastructure.
- e) help to ensure Global Leadership Network Australia maintains the highest standards of ethical behaviour and integrity.

POLICY

1. Concerns regarding illegal or corrupt behaviour

Where an employee of Global Leadership Network Australia believes in good faith on reasonable grounds that any other employee, volunteer, or contractor has breached any provision of the general law that employee must report their concern to:

- their supervisor: or, if they feel that their supervisor may be complicit in the breach,
- the Chairman of the Board: or, if they feel that the Chairman of the Board may be complicit in the breach,
- the organisation's nominated Whistle-blower Protection Officer, Mr Phil Thomson; or, if they feel this to be necessary,
- Mrs Leonie Wright as a person independent of the organisation nominated by the organisation to receive such information, or
- the duly constituted authorities responsible for the enforcement of the law in the relevant area.

The person making their concern known shall not suffer any sanctions from the organisation on account of their actions in this regard provided that their actions.

- are in good faith, and
- are based on reasonable grounds, and
- conform to the designated procedures.

Any person within the organisation to whom such a disclosure is made shall:

- if they believe the behaviour complained of to be unquestionably trivial or fanciful, dismiss the allegation and notify the person making the allegation of their decision.
- if they believe the behaviour complained of to be neither trivial nor fanciful, ensure that the allegation is investigated, a finding is made, and the person making the allegation is informed of the finding.

Any such investigation shall observe the rules of natural justice and the provisions of procedural fairness.

Disclosures may be made anonymously, and this anonymity shall as far as possible be preserved by the organisation.

2. Concerns regarding improper or unethical behaviour

Where an employee of Global Leadership Network Australia believes in good faith on reasonable grounds that any other employee, volunteer, or contractor has breached any provision of the organisation's constitution, or its bylaws, or its policies, or its code of conduct, or generally recognised principles of ethics, that employee may report their concern to

- their supervisor: or, if they feel that their supervisor may be complicit in the breach,
- the Chairman of the Board: or, if they feel that the Chairman of the Board may be complicit in the breach,
- the organization's nominated Whistle-blower Protection Officer, Mr Phil Thomson; or, if they feel this to be necessary,
- Mrs Leonie Wright as a person or office independent of the organisation nominated by the organisation to receive such information; or if needed,
- A nominated independent company external to staff or the GLNA Board. This company will be nominated and approved by the Board when/if needed.

The person making their concern known shall not suffer any sanctions from the organisation on account of their actions in this regard provided that their actions:

- are in good faith, and
- are based on reasonable grounds, and
- conform to the designated procedures.

Any person within the organisation to whom such a disclosure is made shall:

- if they believe the behaviour complained of to be unquestionably trivial or fanciful, dismiss the allegation and notify the person making the allegation of their decision.
- if they believe the behaviour complained of to be neither trivial nor fanciful, ensure that the allegation is investigated, a finding is made, and the person making the allegation is informed of the finding.

Any such investigation shall observe the rules of natural justice and the provisions of procedural fairness.

Disclosures may be made anonymously, and this anonymity shall as far as possible be preserved by the organisation.
